of accident by fire. Mr. Ellis is confident of more improvements for Cimarron and wants to be in on the ground floor with his show. He will put on nothing but the best reels at popular prices and is confident of giving satisfaction to the show going public.

There will be a Masquerade Ball at the Athletic Hall, Saturday night, April first, by Messrs. Ellis and Langston. That will be a good chance boys to talk to the other fellow's girl while he is trying to find out whether she is little Bo-Peep or the gypsy fortune teller.

"Uncle Jimmie" Livingston we understand has closed a deal for an "E. M. F." auto to be delivered in a short time. The old timers in Cimarron are going to keep pace with the many modern improvements of the city. The time was when a cow pony was good enough for "Uncle Jimmie" but he has too much of get-up-and-go of the west to be left behind in the march of progress.

H. C. Ellis informs us that he intends to put in a moving picture show in the Jones building in the near future or as soon as he can get the equipment. He intends to install a Motograph machine, said to be the best on the market, and dynamo with power generated by a gasoline engine. My doing so he will have good clear light and will also light the building from the same source, also there will be no danger.

Dr. Kaslovitz, the veterinary surgeon started out the other morning trading horses. He started out with an animal worth about two hundred dollars and when he came back that night he said that he had made seven trades that day. From appearances he had made the eighth trade he would have returned afoot. Tommy Vest advised him to trade the animal he brought back to Mason Chase for a bottle of Ferruna or to Fred Whitney for his auto.

Ev Winters Wins

The boxing exhibition last night between Ev Winters of Raton and Brownie Buckley of San Francisco, was a fast and lively one until it ended in the third round when Winters put a hard right on Buckley's jaw putting him down for the count. The first round saw some pretty work done by both boys. Buckley done some fancy boxing but was unable to land anything like an effective blow because of Winters' clever system of blocking and foot work. Winters was content with taking his time and feeling out his opponent, but landed a few blows that let Buckley know he was in the ring. The second round opened with Winters on the aggressive and Buckley had to use his clever footwork to keep from being put out. Winters landed several blows with telling effect and when the gong sounded Buckley was plainly in distress. The third opened with Winters apparently as fresh as when he started. Buckley showed that he was desirous of avoiding further punishment. Winters crowded him around the ring landing several wallop. Crowding Buckley into a corner he landed, causing Buckley to lower his guard, then landed on the point of the jaw putting Buckley in the land of dreams. Buckley tried to get up when the count of the fatal ten seconds began but was unable to make it.

Winters showed that the training he had received was perfect; he was as hard as nail and he was not nervous or uneasy as the out come. It was apparent from the beginning of the second round that Buckley was outclassed and had no show of winning. Winters has a knockout in either hand, the courage to give and take, is swift on his feet and delivers his blows with lightning like rapidity.

Buckley is a game young fellow. He has good action, is quick in delivering his blows and is one of the cleverest boys in the ring today with footwork. He was outclassed in his bout with Winters and went the way of all who go against a better man.

Three good preliminaries were pulled off. The first was between "Young" Mason Chase and a boy from Raton. They went three fast rounds and it was a close decision "Young" Chase having some the best of it. One preliminary was between two boys, whose names we failed to learn, one of them being a Mexican, in which the young Mexican showed himself the superior in all points.

"Sledgehammer Tommy" Vest and "Kid Lewis" Reibbien went two rounds in a preliminary. There was a slight difference of some forty pounds of weight in favor of the "Sledgehammer," all of it pure fat, but he surprised his friends by his agility in the ring. He has a way of blocking and covering up that makes it a hard matter to hit him, and when he lands it is like a mule kicking. The "Kid" showed that he had some class to him, being very swift on his feet and doing some clever boxing.

The "Sledgehammer" let him play the first round, but in the second things began to get interesting when he landed a few body blows that took a good man to stand up under. Finally he landed on the "Kid's" jaw with a short arm punch, knocking him down, but rolling over once the "Kid" was on his feet, staggering, and the referee stopped the bout. The "Kid" was all in, but when Johnnie Phillips, who refereed the preliminaries, caught him by the arm and told him it was all over, he said, "I have not started yet." If the "Sledgehammer" would only go into training and get rid of some forty pounds of surplus fat he would be a dandy and give some of the would-be champions bad dreams.

The referee for the main event was Mr. Duckworth of Raton, and the position of official time keeper was filled by J. J. Yeager.

Village Election

The election of the village officers for Cimarron will be held Tuesday April 4th, in the northeast corner of the bank building. The following officers are to be elected:

Mayor, Clerk, Marshal, Treasurer, each to serve one year and two Trustees each for a term of two years.

Who the next village administration will consist of is unknown at the present time as no one has announced as a candidate for any of the offices.

Work on the waterwork system is moving along with all possible speed. Water has been turned into the main pipe from the big reservoir at the head of the Cimarronito, and will soon be into the city.

Some of the ditches in town will have to be dug by hand but there is a large crew of men at work pick, and shovel, and that part will soon be completed. The office building, located in old town, is about ready for plastering and the company will soon be in their own quarters. At least twenty-five plugs will be installed in the city and possibly more, as the construction company has shipped in more plugs than the contract called for and there are one or two points inside the city limits where they are needed it will be an easy matter to make arrangements for putting them in.

Giddings Soliloquy in a Taos Cemetery

There is something gruesome as well as pathetic in the sight presented where the crew of men is digging to lay the foundation of the new Catholic church. Years ago the west front of the old building just raised, was a burying ground and now, a new generation, with a view to progress and better conditions, is encroaching upon the territory devoted to those who once lived here as active forces in this community but of whose existence no evidence now remains but the yellow skulls and decaying bones that are carelessly and thoughtlessly thrown up with the dirt and rotten boards of the caskets, to be carried away and dumped where convenience or adaptability dictates.

No one standing by and watching the work, chatting and laughing, seemed to have a thought nor care as to what names these phantoms bore when they were what we are and had that spark which we, for want of a better name, have called life, hidden within that now useless, shattered and decaying physical frame. What we are, they have been, what they are we will be, and yet we shrink from the thought that, a quarter of a century from now, we will be as carelessly regarded and that for us there will be as little care or thought. The change from life to death, from being something to being nothing in a physical sense is the action of but one second in time and yet no change in all the world is so absolute and irrevocable. Of course, what is left here is nothing, and yet, for what it once was, a something which the most advanced science has failed wholly to explain and understand, one cannot fail to feel a certain respect and awe.

Filed one upon another, the rotten caskets, studded even yet with the ornaments which custom has always dictated, could but fill one's heart with pathetic wonderings of what persons they must have held, and a feeling that even these inanimate useless and broken pieces of what were once parts of a human being should be reburied out of respect for what they once were—Taos Valley News.

It is said that Greene and Gaynor object to paying the $75,000 fine assessed against them by the government. They would be rather peculiar if they did not object.

Irrigated Land Ready for the Plow

600 Acres--

300 Under Ditch--

60 in Alfalfa and 70 in Oats This Year.

Alfalfa 3 cuttings, Annual yield 4 to 6 tons per acre—oats 50 bushels and better per acre this year—plenty of water the year 'round, Rayado River runs through tract which has original and permanent water right. Ten miles south of this city—joins lands of Miami colony which have this year yielded off first year lands 40 to 80 bushels per acre oats, 33 bushels wheat and barley, 3 cuttings alfalfa and vegetables galore. Three miles below the Abreu ranches which have shipped 20,000 pounds plums and has healthy apple trees in bearing—heavy yields for the past 35 years, and pears and other fruits as good as any.

This 600 acre tract is now on the market for a limited time at $22.50 per acre if sold all together. Miami land joining it on the south has been sold this year and last for $40 to $80 per acre in small tracts. This must go all together, and hence the very low price for irrigated land with an abundance of water for irrigation.

There is good school and church one mile south of this tract, also the store and post office of Miami.
